
First Communion

One of our children had her first communion last wednesday, Febrary 4, 2009. It's her first experience to received the body of Christ. Let's welcome her to the family of Christians.

We were watching her, as she walk near the priest, she became more nervous. (Let's call her Ineng) Ineng is one of the most active children of CFF, yet, when she came to realize that she is going to receive the bread which represents the body of Christ. The selfish and hyperactive Ineng changed into an angel. Most of us who watched the ceremony is japanese, but we too feel the presence of someone higher than us.
